RBOC BOATER BRIEF

Copper Bottom Paint

California Seante Bill SB 623 proposes to make it unlawful to manufacture, sell or distribute marine Anti-fouling paints containing copper in the State of California as of January 1, 2015.

RBOC has adopted a position in opposition to this legislation unless the bill is amended to ensure that any deadline precluding the use of copper-based anti-fouling paints does not occur until there are alternatives that are effective, available, & affordable.

RBOC has informed Senator Kehoe that the deadline of January 1, 2015, is unconditional & arbitrary. RBOC states that SB 623 as now proposed "fails to help those who will be most significantly impacted by its provisions: the boating public." RBOC also notes the bill "fails to acknowledge the significant boater efforts to assist in the development & testing of alternatives, the important role of boaters' use of anti-fouling paints containing copper in protecting against invasive species, & the impact of the proposed ban on the boating public."

RBOC is engaged in negotiations with Senator Kehoe in an effort to resolve our concerns.
