Waiting

It seems we spend a great deal of time waiting. Generally it is frustrating and we often can't see a reason for it. Usually we resent it. Sometimes we are just resigned to it.

Currently our club is waiting, and it is frustrating. Our plans for an addition to our clubhouse have been in with all fees paid and all known supplemental reports completed for several months, and we wait for our permit to build. We have had to extend our coastal development permit at additional cost.

Somewhere in Hamlets, "To Be or Not To Be" soliloquy, as he contemplates whether to live or die, Shakespeare includes the "insolence of office and the law's delay" as among those things that might drive us to end it all. This, therefore, cannot be a new frustration for mankind. I had hoped to lead the club through the final decision process on deciding to enter this venture. But, that may not be my privilege as the waiting may extend beyond my tenure in office. What's to be done.

Some just mark the time as they wait, and that's a shame for that time is then lost forever. Others don't, and they are busy prospering. There is a driving set of members who appear to be determined not to let our club commit that sin of standing still as we wait.

With their energy we have been moving forward with the business of yachting as successful yacht clubs are known to do. Many make their efforts behind the scenes where they may not be noticed. And not all of the energy is spent on sailing. Leon Smith is constantly working to improve the function of our clubhouse. The grill works as good as new, skylights are sealed and the CO2 supply for the bar kegs is more secure - to start the list of projects he has completed for the club. Has anyone failed to notice the cabinetry of Terry Ramseyer? Then there is the endless energy of our Membership Chairman Veronica Ciari retrieving members who drifted away and leading the 4th of July parade effort with help from Al & Claudia Linhares, the Malach-Days and a host of others. Barbara Walt has stepped forward to guide event planning and Jeff Smith and Carol Hume are always there to do the provisioning as well as providing their wonderful build your own taco dinners. With the absence of a caterer, many members have provided us with glorious Friday evening eating. You should not miss the culinary delights provided by your fellow members who besides Jeff and Carol include Bob Reilley, Kelli Ambrosi, Serjei Bewley, Terry Ramseyer, Phill Armstrong and Corinne Bortolin, Jennifer Celestre, Phyllis Smith and others.

While some work out of sight, others cannot be missed as their presence is so dominant. Who, for example, can spend time at the club on a weekend and not notice the tall blond figure in shorts, sandals and the hat with a neck skirt for sun protection? Having essentially completed his dock creation, he has turned his attention to fleet building when he's not running a race committee. With his donation of a Cal 20, he has given birth to what some of us look forward to becoming our next active fleet. Where Kelly Pike's visions lead, his team of supporters follow to bring the reality home. Ron Milio, Paul Pfluger, Neal Wehtje and Ken McNutt are champions in the causes. With their efforts we can now get on the water without getting in the water.

Yes, your club is waiting, but it is not standing still. With the efforts of your friends, it is a vibrant place to be. Well I'm ready to join those energetic members and I throw out a challenge that you have as much fun as I will. Here's my plan.

To take advantage of the creation of Kelly et al., starting in August, there will be four boats, ready to sail, moored to the dock from Friday afternoon until Sunday evening. Any member who has passed the sailing qualification may take a boat sailing in the harbor. To start it off, we will have wine and cheese harbor cruising from 6 PM until dinner time Friday August 5th. I'm looking for another skipper or two to join me in providing this venture. Furthermore, I'm announcing that I'm ready to prepare my first Friday night guest chef dinner. Terri Lahey, put me on the schedule. Who will join me?

See you at the club.

HMBYC 4th of July Float was a HUGE Success!!!

Who would of thought that a rag tag group of sailors and our Red, White and Blue boat would have inspired so much enthusiasm, as well as take 2nd place in the mobile divisions of this year 4th of July Parade in Half Moon Bay. But we did and we had a great fun doing so! This incredibly fun event not only got our Club a red ribbon, but great exposure to our community. It wouldn't have been possible without the help of some wonderful volunteers. First, Al and Claudia Linhares who scrubbed, oiled and gave Charlie's blue C-15 the brightwork she need to look "yar" in the parade. David Crisp and Jo Smith not only worked with Al on the clean up, but provisioned those award winning decorations and helped guide our boat through the hazardous wires of Half Moon Bay. Neil Hooper masterfully navigated the Purradise Mobile with our boat in tow through the wires and the throngs of supporting citizens. Captain Charlie was brillant with his crew of Rachel Pierceall and Geena St Andrew as they entertained the town with their trapeze-like sailing moves. Greg Smith and Gayle Pietras proudly carried our newly acquired HMBYC banner through the parade as well as helped with the boat cleaning and postcard trimming with Mimi Wisnom , Phyllis Smith and Todd Wright. And finally, Pat and Kay Burns, Carol Smith, Bob and Marsha Reilly and family (including some great dogs!!), Barbara Dinnsen and Paddle Boy Rich Pierceall for their able-bodied assistance. This was truly a voyage to remember. You can see pictures of our boat at coastsider.com on page 9 of the 4th of July Parade Gallery page and at the Club.

Special thanks go to Phyllis Smith, Todd Wright, Gayle Pietras and Greg Smith for graciously opening the Club for the enjoyment of new, present and future members on the 4th of July! Thank You, Thank You, Thank You!!!

Thanks again to everyone who made this FUN day possible.

HMBYC Open House

Our semi-annual Open House, held Sunday, July 24 was a rollicking good time for all who attended. We hosted nearly 100 people this time, with great food, music from Hipshaker (who were helped out during one of their songs by Yacht Club Member Rich Pierceall) and warm hospitality from many regular club members. We have several new members as a result, and a greater awareness in the community of just how much fun a Yacht Club can be! Many thanks go out to all who devoted their time and energy to this very successful event.

New Boreas Race

The New Boreas Race, sponsored by HMBYC and the Elkhorn Yacht Club, was held July 2. This is the 50th year of the race, which started as a major coastal race from San Francisco to Moss Landing in the heart of Monterey Bay. In recent years the race has been shortened to a more manageable 60 miles, now starting off Half Moon Bay. Terri Lahey and Steve Smith's Olson-25 "Synchronicity" represented the HMBYC with Phill Armstrong and Tom Markiewicz crewing. Unfortunately only one other boat showed up for the start, the C&C 110 "Ariel" representing the Elkhorn Yacht club. Was this to be a 60 mile ocean match race between mismatched boats?

The wind, which is supposed to make this a downwind romp, was light from the southwest; we were on the wind to Pigeon Point. We led in the light wind, but Ariel zoomed by us before Pigeon Point and was soon out of sight. We could ease the sheets at Ano Nuevo, where we set the spinnaker for a headstay reach toward Davenport. Ariel was again behind us. So even with just 2 boats of far different PHRF rating, we had a race! Eventually the wind did go aft as we headed into Monterey Bay. It was an anomalously light air race, our top speed for the entire race was only 7 knots off of Santa Cruz. The wind died for us about 10 miles from Moss Landing around 7 PM. For about 5 hours the GPS was telling us we had just two hours to go, so we couldn't quit! It took until 2:12 AM for Synchronicity to finish. Ariel had given up and motored in around 9 PM, so that even though the excitement of the race died with the wind, we found excitement elsewhere; the phosphorescence of the Monterey Bay water is just amazing on a moonless night.

In the end Synchronicity had the distinction of finishing last (as well as 1st) but winning multiple trophies. The Ariel crew was gracious, coming back the next morning for the awards ceremony, which would otherwise have been rather lonely! Thank you, Randy Leasure who came out for starting line committee boat, Corrine Bortolin, who drove down to pick up crew at the end of the race (late into the AM), and George Arthur and our friends at Elkhorn YC who organized the race from their end. Let's get more boats racing next year!

Help our Harbor Friends

As a harbor resident, the HMBYC shares the responsibility of protecting the well-being of our neighbors, including the seals, otters and other wildlife that inhabit our waters. July 4, a Harbor Seal pup was found stranded on the beach just north of Romeo's Pier, which couldn't have been a worse time or place for this animal to be. Fortunately, the Yacht Club Kids took charge and called the Marine Mammal Center. A brave soul from that organization ventured through the traffic and fireworks to rescue the pup, so the story had a happy ending. If you see any of our wildlife at risk, please contact the Marine Mammal Center at 415.289.SEAL (7325). For more information, visit their website at www.tmmc.org.

Kayaking Adventures!

Date: Saturday July 23rd 2005. Time: 11:30 am.
Visibility: 50 - 400 yards. Air Temp: 60F. Water Temp: 57F. Wind NW12kts. Swell: 6ft @ 9seconds.
Launch Point: Linda Mar Beach, Pacifica.
Destination: Pillar Point Harbor, Princeton.

Led by yacht club member and CC&K instructor Neil Hooper, I found myself at Linda Mar with 2 more CC&K instructors and 3 veterans of the 2005 Tsunami Ranger race to negotiate the 11 mile paddle past Devil's Slide to Pillar Point. First the Good News: everyone was on time, no one forgot their boat, we had 4 marine radios, 7 whistles, 5 compasses, 3 spare paddles, a GPS, helmets, PFDs, full immersion gear and marine charts printed on waterproof paper. Then there was the bad news: the briefing. Commander Hooper put the fear of Neptune into us: no landing options between Linda Mar and Fitzgerald Marine Reserve. Well, wait a minute – sure there are landings (charmingly described as being like a garage sale), but absolutely no possible launches from the dumpy beaches. And even then, the beaches around Devil's Slide are few and far between. Then there was the unpredictable fog, playing hide and seek with cliffs and offshore outcrops, and the risk of losing one's bearings and becoming disoriented, misled by local wave and wind effects. Our compasses, whistles and radios would come into play. Wave and wind conditions were favorable, but likely to build during the day. Having received detailed instructions regarding safety signals, radio checks and channels, the group agreed we were a GO.

Our first objective was to launch successfully through the surf. Our 2nd objective was to meet up with infamous paddler John Lull who would paddle towards us from Pillar Point. Our 3rd objective was to arrive safely with all 8 paddlers and boats intact between 4 to 5 hours time. 2nd in command Vice Commander David Etheridge safely supervised the launch with no one taking a bath – timing was everything as we sat out the larger sets and he urged us out in the smaller ones. Pedro Point Rock was, as usual, spectacular with no possibility of running through the slots – we kept well clear of Devil's Slide, but went inside the endangered murre colony rocks, peering at them through the dank mist. We paddled steadily along, chatting away, getting to know new friends, and recounting old tales. The shoreline was barely visible and we navigated half by compass, and half by ear - the latter not a foolproof method: even John, working his way towards us, was surprised by a breaker off Fitzgerald. We made radio contact with John, and south of Montara, spread ourselves out line abreast to 'net' him as he emerged from the greyness. Then lunch on the open ocean – phew, needed that! Fitzgerald turned out not to be an option for bail outs as visibility was so poor the reef and breaks were dangerously hidden. Just off Moss Beach Distillery – behold, the Sun!!! Now we could see well ahead. We headed well out to sea to avoid the breaks at Flat Rock. From then on, spirits rising, aches and pains diminishing, our speed increased and we were off Pillar Point in no time. The foolhardy even had time for a little surfing fun on Microwave, the popular kayak surfing spot by Sail Rock. Final destination reached in 3.5 hours. We hugged on the HMBYC beach. Later, gear washed down, bodies dried, dress code restored, we bonded and self-congratulated over a well-deserved beer! Hearty acknowledgements for being great team members to the hitherto unmentioned survivors and sometime HMBYC guests: Michelle Lawson, Ed Anderson, Rick Blair and Chris Kumai – what fun we had!

SSS Race Dinner Very Successful

The Single-Handed Sailing Society (SSS) race was a great success for the HMBYC as 75 dinners were served that evening. That equates to a very good night for our nonprofit organization! A very special thank you goes to Carol Smith and Jeff Hume who prepared their secret Sloppy Joe recipe for the club! Other volunteers who were so key to the this huge event were Barb Walt (yummy cole slaw recipe), Al and Claudia Linhares, Phyllis Smith, Neal Wehtje, Mimi Wisnom, Todd Wright, Terri Lahey and Steve Smith, and Watch Officer Phill Armstrong. For a small group of volunteers, they did a stupendous job. Thank you to the SSS racers for visiting us again this year.
